BOTHELL, Wash., Aug. 7, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- BioLife Solutions, Inc. (Nasdaq: BLFS) ("BioLife" or the "Company"), a leading developer and supplier of cell processing tools and services for the cell and gene therapy ("CGT") market, announces financial results for the three and six months ended June 30, 2025.

Roderick de Greef, BioLife's Chairman and CEO, commented, "We delivered another strong quarter with cell processing revenue increasing 28% year-over-year and marking our seventh consecutive quarter of sequential growth. Performance was led by our biopreservation media (BPM) franchise, where we saw continued strength across both direct and distributor channels. Notably, customers with approved commercial therapies again represented approximately 40% of total BPM revenue – underscoring the recurring nature of our product and the spec'd in consistency of our model. With our media embedded in 16 approved therapies and supporting more than 250 ongoing commercial trials, including over 30 in Phase III, we've established BioLife as the default partner for clinical programs across all phases, including later stage trials where clinical success is more likely and the path to commercial revenue is clearest.

"With this momentum and improved visibility into the second half, even against an uncertain macro backdrop, we are raising our full year guidance for cell processing revenue," he added. "Continued outperformance in cell processing and meaningful year-over-year expansion in adjusted EBITDA margin reflect the operating leverage and financial benefits of our streamlined operations and focused product portfolio – positioning BioLife to deliver sustained growth and long-term shareholder value."

Second Quarter 2025 Business Highlights

- Our biopreservation media is utilized in over 250 ongoing, commercially sponsored clinical trials in the U.S., representing more than 70% market share. This includes over 30 Phase III trials which account for nearly 80% of these late-stage trials. Our CellSeal vials and hPL products are also used in over 35 commercially sponsored clinical trials.
- Our biopreservation media is embedded in 16 unique commercial CGT's as of June 30, 2025, with expectations that approvals for 10 additional products, geographic expansions, earlier lines of treatment, or new indications will occur over the next 12 months. Our CellSeal cryogenic vials and hPL products are embedded into four approved therapies.
- On April 4, 2025, we acquired the remaining 90% of the shares of PanTHERA CryoSolutions, Inc. ("PanTHERA"), a privately held developer of novel cryopreservation solutions based on proprietary Ice Recrystallization Inhibitor ("IRI") technology. Full ownership of PanTHERA fortifies our position as the biopreservation market leader and adds core scientific capabilities to our management team.
- On July 18, 2025, the Company purchased $2.0 million of convertible notes in Pluristyx, Inc. ("Pluristyx"), a Seattle-based developer of induced pluripotent stem cell ("iPSC") based products for cell therapy developers.

The Company accounted for the PanTHERA transaction as an asset acquisition. Because the IRI cryopreservation technology was under development at the time of the transaction, it is considered in-process research and development ("IPR&D") as of the date of acquisition. The Company valued the IPR&D asset at $15.5 million, and in accordance with US GAAP, determined that the fair value of the asset should be immediately expensed. The expense is reported in our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. This one-time, non-cash charge impacted GAAP EPS by approximately $0.32 and $0.33 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, respectively. This charge has been excluded from our non-GAAP financial results.
